

Lab 8 LaTeX Table of Contents, Figures, and Tables

Jericho McLeod

February 10, 2019

Abstract

In this lab, we use LaTeX features for automatically creating table of contents, figures, and tables.

Contents

1	Iceland	2
2	Iceland Map	3
3	Visitor Statistics	4
4	Waterfalls	5

List of Figures

1	Map of Iceland . . . . .	3
2	Skógafoss (The Forest Waterfall) by Jericho McLeod, 2018 © . . . . .	5
3	Seljalandsfoss (Selling the Land of Waterfalls) by Jericho McLeod, 2018 © . . . . .	5

List of Tables

1	Iceland Annual Visitors, 2010-2017 . . . . .	4
---	--	---

1    Iceland

Iceland has become a popular tourist destination in recent years.

2 Iceland Map

Here is a map of Iceland, showing the larger cities and the major highway that circumnavigates the island (see figure 1).

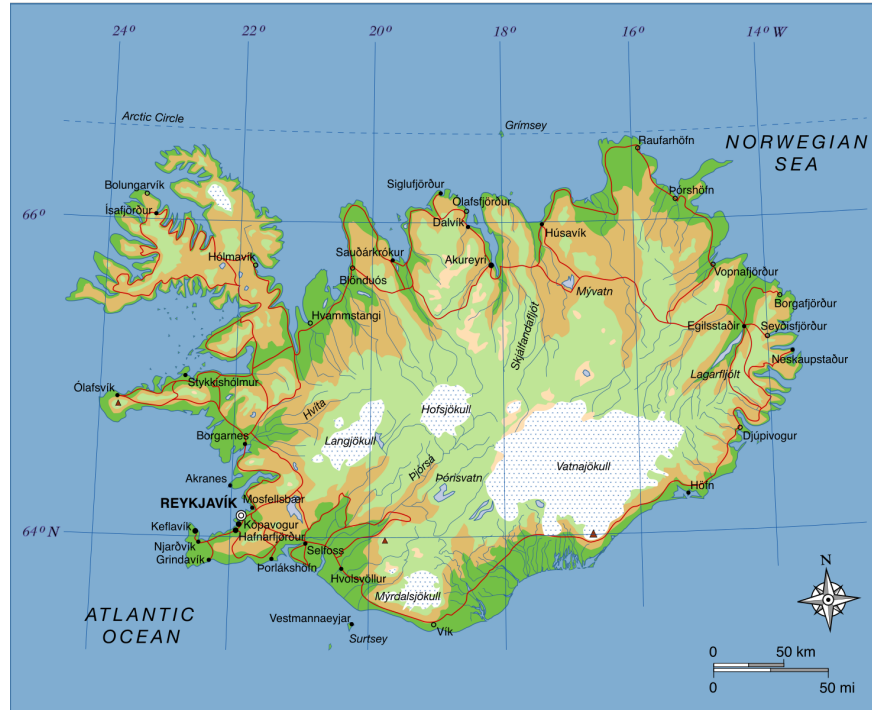

Figure 1: Map of Iceland

Source: https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File:Map\_of\_Iceland.svg

3 Visitor Statistics

Located at a convenient location for Trans-Atlantic flights to have layovers, Iceland now sees more than two million visitors per year (see Table 1)

Year	Visitors
2010	459,252
2011	540,824
2012	646,921
2013	781,016
2014	969,181
2015	1,261,938
2016	1,767,726
2017	2,195,271

Table 1: Iceland Annual Visitors, 2010-2017

Source: <https://www.ferdamalastofa.is>

4 Waterfalls

Iceland is known for its vast number of waterfalls. Here is a limited selection of them (see Figures 2 and 3).

Figure 2: Skógafoss (The Forest Waterfall) by Jericho McLeod, 2018 ©

Figure 3: Seljalandsfoss (Selling the Land of Waterfalls) by Jericho McLeod, 2018 ©